

Explanation:

Angle is only going to relate to the Howitzer because the howitzer will determine the angle the projectile is shot at. Acceleration, Velocity, Position all go to the projectile because they will all be dictated by the projectile itself. While the projectile will use the Howitzer to start its position. Acceleration, Velocity, and Position will constantly have different math problems going into them using recursion.

